

Elementary

Let The Children March
by Monica Clark-Robinson
RL 2.0 IL 2-5

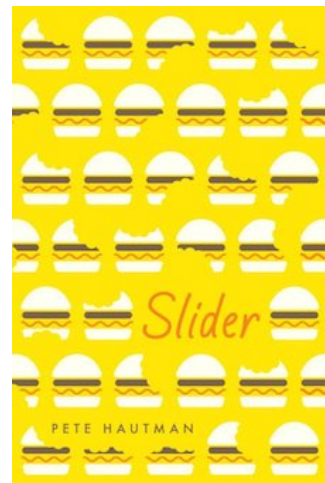

Recounts an important story from the Civil Rights Movement, when, in 1963, thousands of African American children in Birmingham, Alabama, volunteered to peacefully march to protest racist, segregationist laws after hearing Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. speak. Facing fear, hate, and danger, these children used their voices to change the world.

Middle School

Slider
by Pete Hautman
RL 4.0 IL 5-9

David trains for a pizza-eating contest he is desperate to win so he can repay his mother the $2,000 he accidentally charged to her credit card. Meanwhile, he must ride herd on his autistic brother and cope with his friends' new romance.

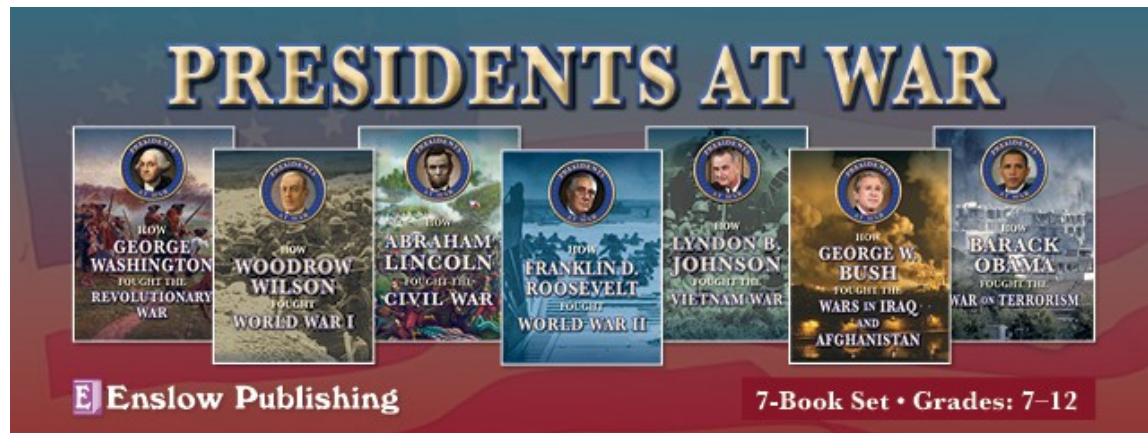

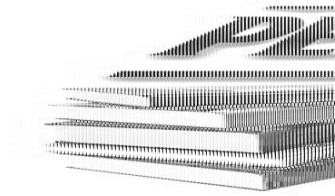

High School

Glass Spare
by Lauren DeStefano
RL 7.0 IL 7-12

Cursed with the dangerous power of turning people into gemstone, the only daughter of the king of the world's wealthiest nation, sets off on a journey of discovery that leads to tragedy—and a quest for redemption.

Track this popular series in Check out Presidents At War, a new set for middle/high school readers from Enslow.

Each title looks at an individual U.S. president, and how he responded during key conflicts, both at home and abroad, during his presidency.

In this new book for young readers from Penguin Random House, Newbery medalist/Caldecott honoree Matt de la Peña (Last Stop on Market Street) and bestselling illustrator Loren Long (Otis) have created a powerful story about the strongest bond there is, and the varied and meaningful ways it connects all of us.

Watch for your chance to win a signed copy in our premium Perma-Bound binding!

THE STRONGEST BOOKS YOU CAN BUY

Perma-Bound.com • 800.637.6581