Curriculum Theme: Appearance And Identity

Traditional Curriculum Selection:

Freak the Mighty by Rodman Philbrick

A brilliant, emotionally-charged novel about a friendship so powerful, it shatters the walls a boy has built around himself since the murder of his mother.

Catalogue #: 109634

School Price: $17.05 (Free Teacher's Guide with the Purchase of 20 Copies or More)

Qty Discount: $16.71 (For the Purchase of 25 Copies or More)

New Curriculum Selection: Academic

The Scar Boys by Len Vlahos

In a college admissions essay, eighteen-year-old Harry Jones recounts a childhood defined by his hideous scars, and tells how forming a band brought self-confidence, friendship, and his first kiss.

Catalogue #: 96574

School Price: $20.56

Qty Discount: $20.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: This book had me captivated in the first couple of pages. The first page consists of a college admissions essay question. The following pages and in fact the rest of the book is Harbinger "Harry" Jones' answer to that question. Each chapter starts with a song title and performer. The story begins with the critical event that caused Harry's disfiguring scars. I must say this for me was a graphic scene. I was brought to tears and laughed out loud within the first 15 pages of the novel. Harry must endure a painful recovery that has him addicted to methadone before the age of 10, struggles with bullies at school, and an unknown future. While Harry's mother is amazingly supportive, he struggles with his relationship with his father. The school is a hostile environment for Harry until a popular boy named Johnny befriends him and the boys start a band called the Scar Boys. While shaky at first the band becomes good enough to tour. But as the dynamics of the group changes, Harry's views of himself change as well.

New Curriculum Selection: Applied

Wonder by R.J. Palacio

Ten-year-old Auggie, born with extreme facial abnormalities, must struggle with the taunting and fear of classmates as he enters a private school in Manhattan in an attempt to live a normal life. Includes bonus material "The Julian Chapter".

Catalogue #: 61954

School Price: $25.46

Qty Discount: $24.95 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: This book was fantastic. August Pullman is a normal kid, except for his face. August was born with a severe facial deformity, and because of all of the surgeries this required August was home schooled. Now that he is 10, Auggie is enrolled in Beecher Prep Academy. Nervous at first Auggie makes friends with Jack Will and Summer but kids can be cruel and everyone isn't as able to see past Auggie's exterior to the smart and funny kid he is inside. Kids, like Julian, who tease Auggie and try to turn the other kids against him and Jack. But everyone has a story and this book doesn't just focus on Auggie, but many of the different characters – his sister Via, her boyfriend Justin, and her friend Miranda, Auggie's friends Jack and Summer, and even bully Julian. I loved how this book focused on different people and talked about some of the events from multiple perspectives. You can see the reasons for some of the changes in behaviour between some of the characters – why Miranda and Via drift apart, why Julian has a hard time accepting August, etc. A big part of the novel is about acceptance – of oneself and of others, but also understanding the changes that take place between friends at school – how we drift apart and come back together. I also really liked the depiction of Auggie's parents – they're flawed but loving. As well as the English teacher Mr. Browne – the precepts in this book are a great conversation starter as they will mean different things to different people. I highly recommend this novel but be warned – I couldn't get through it without crying – but in a good way!

Theme Inquiry Explorations:

- How does your physical appearance influence how you think about yourself?
- Do you judge others based on the way they look or do you get to know them first?
- Why are kindness and empathy important for combating bullying?

Curriculum Theme: Mental Health and Wellness

Traditional Curriculum Selection:

Curious Incident of the Dog in the Nighttime by Rodman Mark Haddon

Despite his overwhelming fear of interacting with people, Christopher, a mathematically-gifted, autistic fifteen-year-old boy, decides to investigate the murder of a neighbor's dog and uncovers secret information about his mother.

Catalogue #: 66741

School Price: $27.24 (Free Teacher's Guide with the Purchase of 20 Copies or More)

Qty Discount: $26.70 (For the Purchase of 25 Copies or More)

New Curriculum Selection: University

Colin Fischer by Ashley Edward Miller & Zack Stentz

A youthful Sherlock Holmes whose Asperger's syndrome makes social interaction difficult, young Colin investigates a crime where he must uncover the greatest mystery of all--what other people are thinking and feeling.

Catalogue #: 74916

School Price: $27.70

Qty Discount: $27.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: I loved this book. Colin Fischer has Asperger's Syndrome and sensory integration disorder. He doesn't like loud noises and he definitely doesn't like to be touched. This is going to make his first year in high school more than a little challenging. He doesn't even make it to homeroom on the first day before the school bully – Wayne Connelly – dunks his head in the toilet. When a gun goes off in the high school cafeteria Wayne is the natural suspect but Colin sees things others don't and he knows Wayne is innocent. And he sets out to prove it. With masterful observation and reasoning skills Colin is a quirky Sherlock Holmes. I really loved the story line and plot of this novel. While I surmised the suspect very early there were a few twists and turns that left me surprised. All of the characters felt fleshed out and real to me. This high school could have been anywhere and the characters will be relatable to most teens. I loved the interjections of Colin's notebook and even the footnotes on the bottom of some of the pages; they tended to make me feel like Colin was extremely intelligent and if given a chance (like Melissa gives him) very interesting. The friendship that develops between Wayne and Colin is very much like Sherlock and Watson (Wayne/Watson). This is a book that is easy to visualize while reading and I could almost see the change in Wayne's behaviour toward Colin. There are also comparisons to be drawn between Colin and Rudy. Neither character really has any empathy but Colin is good and Rudy is rather evil. Rudy is Colin's Moriarty (Moore/Moriarty). The ending may not seem fair and certainly leaves room for another Colin Fischer book.

New Curriculum Selection: College

Freaks Like Us by Susan Vaught

A mentally ill teenager who rides the "short bus" to school investigates the sudden disappearance of his best friend.

Catalogue #: 79417

School Price: $20.56

Qty Discount: $20.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: Freak hears voices. He has since he was 8-years-old. He calls his voices Bastard, Whiner, and the No-Names. They ramble continually in his head. Now that he's in high school he's in a special class with Drip, who has ADHD, and Sunshine, who has selective-mutism. Freak has schizophrenia. They've grown accustomed to their lives as "alphabets" as they call themselves. But when Sunshine disappears all eyes turn toward Freak and Drip. But no one ever listens to the alphabets and when the FBI is called in even Freak isn't sure that he didn't hurt Sunshine. Trying the best they can to find their best friend, Freak and Drip search for Sunshine, but find only more heartache and pain after they are attacked and beaten up by two of the bullies from school. Even the boys' parents aren't sure if they are to blame for her disappearance. But when confronted by Agent Mercer of the FBI it is up to Freak to sort out the real from the unreal and the voices in his head, and to see if he alone can find out what happened to Sunshine. An interesting read. The voices were fairly easy to keep sorted as they were italicized within the text. And because Freak's inner voices are included you do get the dizzying sense of what is going on in his mind. The quest to find Sunshine is not cut and dry given the characters in the novel, but enough is given away early enough in the novel to make you suspect what happened.

Theme Inquiry Explorations:

- How does society tend to treat people with mental illness?
- What about these traits makes the characters more or less perceptive to those around them?
- How does parental support or rejection influence these characters?

Curriculum Theme: The Body Politic

Traditional Curriculum Selection:

Frankenstein by Mary Shelley

A monster assembled by a scientist from parts of dead bodies develops a mind of his own as he learns to loathe himself and hate his creator.

Catalogue #: 109501

School Price: $13.63 (Free Teacher's Guide with the Purchase of 20 Copies or More)

Qty Discount: $13.36 (For the Purchase of 25 Copies or More)

New Curriculum Selection: University

Noggin by John Corey Whaley

After he died at age sixteen, Travis Coates' head was removed and frozen for five years before being attached to another body; now the old Travis and the new must find a way to coexist, while figuring out relationship changes.

Catalogue #: 97054

Lori's Book Review: Travis has been diagnosed with cancer. It's only a matter of time before he succumbs to the illness so when Dr. Saranson visits with a plan to cryogenically freeze Travis' head to reanimate him at a later date, Travis goes for it. When he opens his eyes again it's like nothing has changed – except for his body of course. Instead of being reanimated in 10-20 years as hoped, it's only been five years. But five years is long enough for everyone else to change. His girlfriend is now engaged, his best friend who confessed to being gay on Travis' death bed is living in denial, his mother has gotten rid of all of his stuff, and his father is working some very late shifts at work. While the world has gone on without him for the last five years, it's like Travis has just blinked. I loved this story for the characters, plot and concept. I liked how the story sounded like it was being told directly from Travis to the reader. We see Travis at different points during his illness and later reanimation - moments with his girlfriend Cate and best friend Kyle. Travis develops a new friendship with Hatton who gives him the nickname Noggin. Travis doesn't know how to deal with his celebrity as only the second person to be successfully reanimated. What I loved was that the time between Travis' death and reanimation was only five years but for a 16 year old that is the difference between being a teen and an adult. While his friends have grown up and moved on, Travis needs to go back to high school. He needs to reintegrate into a future that has moved on without him. I had many moments where I laughed out loud and a couple where I got teary. One of my favourite things about this book is that the last line from each chapter becomes the chapter title on the next page. It works to link the story and the events of Travis' life together.

Proxy by Alex London

Privileged Syd and his proxy, Knox, are thrown together to overthrow the system.

Catalogue #: 82514

School Price: $20.56

Qty Discount: $20.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: Knox is living the "lux" life he gets in trouble but his proxy is always there to take his punishment. So when he steals a car and gets into an accident he figures his proxy will get his punishment and all will go back to normal - except he's killed someone. And Syd, Knox's proxy, doesn't want to pay this debt. In this book society is split into the Upper City – those of wealth and status, and the Valve – those who eke out a living and accumulate debt and when you live in the Valve - everything costs. Syd has done everything he can not to accrue any debt but his Patron Knox always seems to be getting into trouble. From the time he was four he's taken the punishments – the work camps, the beatings. Now he's taken his blood. Syd has had enough, but when Knox kills someone and Syd is sentenced to 16 years in a work camp, he knows he has to escape. When Syd goes with his friend Egan to meet someone who can give him a new identity, the last person he expects to meet is his Patron. In a twist of fate Syd and Knox find they must trust in one another to outrun the Guardians and Knox's father, who wants to kill Syd. Turns out that Syd's blood is more valuable than he realizes. I really loved Syd's character. He has dark brown skin and he's gay. Unlike other novels I've read where the main characters sexuality becomes integral to the plot, this is not the case in this book. This is just a character that happens to be gay. While I did have a pretty good idea about how the story would end, I found the journey getting there to be very intriguing.

Seven high school students are stranded at their New England high school during a week-long blizzard that shuts down the power and heat, freezes the pipes, and leaves them wondering if they will survive.

Catalogue #: 69831

School Price: $20.56

Qty Discount: $20.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: It's snowing but that's nothing new. The problem is that it hasn't stopped snowing and it doesn't appear to be stopping anytime soon. The Tattawa High School administration, decide to close the school early and most students head home. Three sophomores Scotty, Jason and Pete, stay late to work on Jason's go-kart. But the snow keeps on falling and soon they're trapped along with four freshmen and one teacher (who leaves the students unattended to see if he can go get help). While initially it doesn't seem so bad, different personalities emerge when the school slowly loses things like power, heat and water. The students must find ways to ensure their survival before they're rescued and as Scotty alludes to at the beginning of the novel, not everyone does.

Adrift by Paul Griffin

Taking a job in Montauk for the summer, best friends Matt and Mike meet three girls who enjoy lives of privilege before the group becomes lost at sea in a small boat and must overcome respective differences in order to survive.

Catalogue #: 104210

School Price: $27.70

Qty Discount: $27.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: Matt and John have been friends for years and are bonded over a shared tragedy in their past. Matt is smart and hoping to head to Yale, John is pragmatic and is planning to become an electrician. They're spending their summer working the tourist beaches selling drinks and ice cream and this is how they meet Driana (Dri), Estefania and her boyfriend Jojo. Matt is immediately smitten with Dri and when she invites them to a party at her house he drags John along with them. But events quickly turn when impulsive Estefania decides to go windsailing at night. Heading out into the sea the four others chase her in a neighbour's boat but not before calling the police. Unfortunately this is the beginning of a set of events that set the teens on a path that will change all of them forever. All of them head out to sea and not all of them return, and none of them return the same. This book is a fantastic read for curriculum study as there are many topics that can be discussed from survival strategies to life-altering decisions. The characters in this novel were well described and distinctly different. Matt and John's tragic back story influences how they react in this life and death situation and you feel as a reader you can understand why they make the decisions they do. I also really liked that Dri's character is kind, compassionate, strong, as well as intelligent. It's nice to have a female character that isn't a damsel in distress so much as "in the same boat" as the male characters. I also appreciated the idea that while tragedy can bring people together it can also pull them apart!

The Martian (Classroom Edition) by Andy Weir

Stranded on Mars by a duststorm that compromised his space suit and forced his crew to leave him behind, astronaut Mark Watney struggles to survive in spite of minimal supplies and harsh environmental challenges that test his ingenuity.

Catalogue #: 121986

School Price: $25.94

Qty Discount: $25.42 (25 Copies or More)

Lori’s Book Review: Mark Watney is a Martian. He was part of a crew sent to Mars for scientific research. However, when a storm blows in that threatens their safety they decide to evacuate the planet early and head back for Earth. But, during the storm Mark is hit with the communication antennae, his suit is breached and his life signs are gone. The crew has no choice but to leave him behind. When Mark wakes up, he is alone on Mars with no communication with Earth or the crew, not enough food or water, and a life support system that was designed for a temporary stay. Through amazing resilience, intelligence, and humour Mark finds a way to create water, grow food, and with plundered materials even talk to Earth. This book was amazingly intelligent and while I lack the scientific background to determine the validity of whether what Mark does is possible, it certainly sounds probable. In any case, I was able to suspend any disbelief. The humour of Mark’s log entries was irreverent and incredibly entertaining. I suspected that the book would just be a series of Mark’s log entries, but I was pleasantly surprised that you see a variety of events from different perspectives including those of the scientists back on Earth trying to rescue Mark as well as his crew mates both before and after their departure. I was laughing out loud on the very last page.

Across the Universe by Beth Revis

Teenaged Amy, a cryogenically frozen passenger on the spaceship Godspeed, wakes up to discover that someone may have tried to murder her.

Catalogue #: 66002

School Price: $20.56

Qty Discount: $20.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori’s Book Review: Despite her misgivings, 17-year-old Amy is cryogenically frozen with her parents to travel to Centauri-Earth to start a colonization project – a trip that should take 300 years. But something has gone wrong and someone is unplugging and killing the frozen. Amy survives her abrupt reanimation and meets Elder, the next leader of the ship GodSpeed. Elder is being taught and mentored by Eldest to lead the now mono-ethnic inhabitants of the ship. Eldest wants Elder to have nothing to do with Amy. She’s different and one thing Eldest will not tolerate is difference. But it is her difference that attracts Elder. She looks nothing like anyone else on the ship and she questions everything. These questions lead Elder on a journey to discover who is unplugging the frozen people from Sol-Earth and why.

Catalogue #: 97154

School Price: $17.34

Qty Discount: $16.99 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: It's the day of the trial - the day before Oskari's 13th birthday. He will walk into the forest on Mount Akka, he will hunt with the traditional bow, and he will return a man. He will bring back what the forest gives him. But Oskari is small and he can't even fully draw the bow back all the way. But Oskari is determined not to disappoint his father, a man who brought back a bear. As Oskari takes off into the forest, he heads toward his father's secret hunting ground but is quickly veered off course by the approach of a helicopter. Thinking it is illegal poachers, Oskari watches as the helicopter sets down and men in uniform appear with rocket launchers. Under cover he watches as these strangers bring down not just an airplane, but air force one. Oskari is no longer the hunter, he is the hunted...and so is the president of the United States. Will all of Oskari's training be enough to save them both? I quite liked the fast pace of this novel. It occurs over two days and the action is fairly continuous throughout. While the situations are dangerous, it did feel as if Oskari was in his element - he is familiar with the forest and mountain surroundings giving him an advantage over those stalking them. It is a really good survival story and the ending was quite satisfactory.

As Easy as Falling Off the Face of the Earth by Lynne Rae Perkins

A teenaged boy encounters one comedic calamity after another when his train strands him in the middle of nowhere, and everything comes down to luck.

Catalogue #: 44333

School Price: $20.56

Qty Discount: $20.15 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: A series of comedic events lead to the isolation of Ry from his family. Trying to phone his grandfather and unable to get a signal in the middle of nowhere, Ry gets off his train and left behind in Montana. His parents are sailing in the Caribbean on vacation and they've lost their phone, that is, had it stolen by an irreverent monkey. And Ry's grandfather isn't answering the phone because he's fallen and hit his head and can't remember who he is or where he's supposed to be. Not to mention the fact that the dogs, whose story is told in graphic novel format, are trying to make their way back to their old home. This novel is an exercise in Murphy's Law and exemplifies how easily people, like things, are lost and found. The more connections we have with one another, the less likely we will "fall off the face of the Earth".

Theme Inquiry Explorations:

- How do the characters move from innocence to experience in these novels?
- What character traits do each of the young protagonists possess that aids in their survival?
- How does the isolating nature of the protagonist experience build resiliency?

12 Things To Do Before You Crash and Burn by James Proimos

In this humorous coming-of-age novel, James "Hercules" Martino has two weeks to accomplish the twelve tasks given to him by his Uncle Anthony.

Catalogue #: 59569

Sale Title: $17.13 (Limited Copies Available)

Lori's Book Review: A laugh out loud funny book. The book opens at the funeral of Herc's father. Nicknamed "Hercules" by his dad when he was six years old because he opened a jar of pickles, James is struggling with the adoration his father received being a famous self-help book author and television host and the jerk his father was to him at home. Sent to Baltimore for two weeks to stay with his Uncle, Herc is given 12 tasks to complete to keep him busy and out of trouble. He decides his first task is to find "strange beautiful unattainable woman" who sat next to him on the train and return her copy of "Winnie-the-Pooh". The tasks take him to different places around the city, meeting different people and each one causes him to reflect on his own life as well as the life of his mother, father, uncle, and the strangers that he meets. The book is well written. It's fast paced. The chapters are short, usually only about two to three pages with a total page count of 121. This book is a fantastic read for boys particularly reluctant or struggling readers because the subject matter is funny and relatable. Warning: There is a fair amount of swearing in this novel.

Echo Echo: Reverso Poems about the Greek Myths by Marilyn Singer

This collection of reversible poems helps readers gain new perspectives on ancient Greek myths.

Catalogue #: 112980

School Price: $26.97

Qty Discount: $26.43 (25 Copies or More)

Lori's Book Review: This is a lovely poetry picture book. I was struck by the colourful illustrations that are designed as mirror images to highlight the myths in the poems. I particularly like the art portrayed on the cover that is inverted and found with the first poem - An Age of Marvelous Myths. The poems are reversos - a poetry form the author has invented - the poem is read first top to bottom, it is then reprinted in reverse order with only punctuation and capitalization changing. Sometimes the poetry is written from the same voice but I like the poems that change perspective; such as Arachne and Athena, King Midas and His Daughter, and Perseus and Medusa, where the voice changes from one character to the other despite the words being the same. This book is a great introduction to Greek myth and each poem has an informational tidbit about the myth on the bottom of the page.

- How are Greek Myths used to explain the changing world around us?
- What kinds of attributes do heroes possess?
- What happens when you face your greatest fears?
